

DICKIE PAUSES IN HIS MADE DESIRE TO PROPOSE TO THINK IT ALL OVER.

BY H. B. MARTIN

The Economist"The Store That Satisfies"*

NEW ARRIVALS

The Latest Styles in Waists for Fall

The Economist*"The Store That Satisfies"*

THE WANT AD SEEKS MORE PEOPLE IN ONE DAY THAN YOU CAN SEE IN A MONTH

MULTI-MILLIONAIRE WILL LABOR AS SMELTERMAN

Son of Guggenheim, Copper King, at Six Dollars, Per. Will Learn Business From Bottom Up for Three Years.

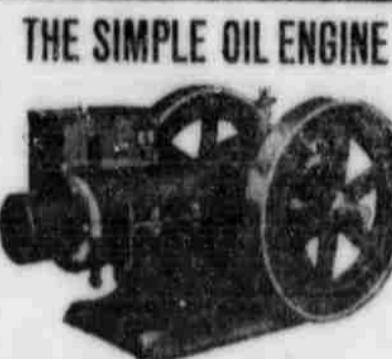

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 6.—Edmund A. Guggenheim, son of Murray Guggenheim, the millionaire copper mine owner, is soon to go to work as a laborer at $6 a week in the mills of the Baltimore Copper Company. Guggenheim, who is to begin at singing pots of molten metal and dancing furnace on his six senior laborers, says he wants to learn the business from the bottom.

He must strip to his undershirt or bare body and overalls. At present Guggenheim, his wife and son are registered at the fashionable Hotel Bellevue, but where he goes to work it will be in a roaring and hot mill surrounded by railroad cars, belching plants and steamship pipes.

He expects to sleep at it for three years. Guggenheim and today.

"My father has copper mines and factories and other gigantic enterprises in every part of the world, but it has been agreed that I am to be bound in Maryland. I am not going to sit around and watch the other fellows work. I am going to get right down beside the other fellows in the factory and do my share. I'll do my work as I have done on the athletic field at Yale."

And the young millionaire squared his broad shoulders gravely, arose from a chair and with lavish enthusiasm displayed his big frame. He is over six feet tall. Young Guggenheim is a powerful young man, and

Uses Distillate or Kerosene

No Carburetor, no Spark Plugs, no Batteries, no Trouble. See one operate at 267 Gold Avenue. For particulars and prices address

THE SIMPLE OIL ENGINE CO. OF NEW MEXICO.
Rooms 25-26 Barnett Block, Albuquerque.

WILLIAMSON HAFFNER CO. ENGRAVERS-PRINTERS
OUR CUTS MAKE
DENVER, COLO.
PIONEER BAKERY
207 South First Street.

although but 24 years old looks many years older.

He was one of the mainstays on the baseball team at Yale and always was able to take care of himself in any pinch.

He graduated from Yale last year, a Phi. D.

WHITTIER SCHOOL WILL REFORM

Abuses That Have Crept Into Administration of Reform School for California Girls and Boys Corrected.

Whittier, Calif., Sept. 6.—Governor Hiram Johnson's new board of Whittier school trustees has in preparation a drastic program for the improvement of conditions in that institution, which is to become effective as soon as certain details of the subject can be worked out. The members of the board are in a unit in the theory that the new conditions will improve the discipline at the school and that inmates of the institution will be better equipped to face the world after they have left the state's supervision. Also that they will be better contented while there.

It has been practically decided that there are to be two heads of the institution, one supervising its reformatory work, with an assistant looking after the business details. The school spends annually upward of $200,000 in public funds, and it is deemed a wise provision that its financial conduct shall not be a part of its general management.

Warden H. S. MacLanney, head of the United States penitentiary at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, is to be requested by the board to recommend an expert in reformatory work to accept the superintendency at Whittier. Pending his appointment the new regime at the school proposes several innovations which are expected to better conditions in the institution very materially.

It is aimed to do away with the whipping of boys and girls. Also it is intended that female courts shall be established in the school's female department. In the girls' end of the institution playgrounds with modern appliances are to become a feature. Swimming pools also are to be located in the male department of the school. In addition the men in the school is to be materially improved and much more introduced.

Another innovation will be the appointment of female physicians in the girls' department.

Several features of the new program are already in effect and others will follow as rapidly as possible.

"I have a world of confidence in Chamberlain'sough Kennedy for I have used it with perfect success," writes Mrs. M. L. Thadson, Poolesville, Md. For sale by all druggists.

For the best saddle horses in the city call phone No. 3, W. L. Trimble, 113 North Second St.

No Carburetor, no Spark Plugs, no Batteries, no Trouble. See one operate at 267 Gold Avenue.

For particulars and prices address

THE SIMPLE OIL ENGINE CO. OF NEW MEXICO.
Rooms 25-26 Barnett Block, Albuquerque.

NOTICE OF SHERIFF'S SALE.

Notice is hereby given that in pursuance of an execution issued out of the district court of the second judicial district of the Territory of New Mexico, within and for Bernalillo county, upon a judgment rendered in the case of the Bank of Commerce as plaintiff vs. Tom F. Phelan, defendant, which judgment was rendered on the 1st day of July, 1908, for the sum of $154.27, $10.25 of which bears interest at the rate of twelve and one-half per annum from the date of judgment and the balance of said judgment bears interest at six per cent, together with costs of suit, that I have levied upon the following described real estate, situated in Bernalillo county, New Mexico, to-wit:

The southeast 1/4 of section 15, township 9 north, range 2 east, containing 160 acres, and this I will sell on the 30th day of October, 1911, at the front door of the Bernalillo county court house at 10 o'clock a.m. on said day, offer for sale and sell at public auction all the right, title and interest of the defendant and to the above described real estate for the purpose of satisfying and paying said judgment, interest, court costs, including advertisement of sale and other costs incurred in connection therewith.

JESUS ROMERO,
Sheriff Bernalillo County.

NOTICE OF SUIT.

In the District Court, Territory of New Mexico, County of Bernalillo, Katherine H. Pritchett, Plaintiff, vs. James W. Pritchett, Defendant. No. 8712.

To the Above Named Defendant:

You are hereby notified that a suit has been filed against you in the said court and county by the above named plaintiff in which the said plaintiff prays for an absolute divorce on the grounds of abandonment and nonsupport, and for alimony and counsel fees. And you are further notified that unless you enter or cause to be entered your appearance in said cause on or before the 10th day of October, A. D. 1911, a decree pro confesso will be taken against you and the relief prayed for will be granted. The name of the plaintiff's attorney is James Barth, whose postoffice address is Albuquerque, New Mexico.

(Seal) THOS. K. D. MADDOX,

16-25-26-6

MAKE HIM TRY IT

If your husband insists upon eating home-made bread during the heated term. Have you ever tried giving him the high-grade breads baked by us. You will find that he will prefer them as well as our delicious cookies, rolls, biscuits, cakes and pastry. Take your ease during warm weather by ordering your baked goods at the

PIONEER BAKERY

207 South First Street.

WILD AND WOOLEY WEST WAS TAME

As another example of the exaggerated notions that eastern people seem to have of the "wild and wooly west" is the story of a Kansas City youth, who left a happy home to fight Indians and rescue lovely maidens from bad bandits. He had received his ideas from the moving picture theaters and from the cartoons and illustrations of the eastern press. According to the Kansas City Star:

The call of the wild came irresistibly to Earl Craig, 15 years old. The members of the board are a unit in the theory that the new conditions will improve the discipline at the school and that inmates of the institution will be better equipped to face the world after they have left the state's supervision. Also that they will be better contented while there.

He swung on a freight train in the yards, and began a long journey which finally ended in the wilds of Wyoming. But for some reason adventures failed to materialize. He couldn't even find a job as a cow puncher. The motion picture stories were all a farce, he decided.

Tired, ragged and hungry, Earl dropped from a freight in the Kansas City yards the first of last week. He was ashamed to go home, so he stayed in the West bottoms, sleeping wherever he could find a little shelter and finding odd jobs to earn money to buy something to eat. A policeman took him to the Detention Home yesterday.

The boy was paroled until Friday, when he will be taken before the juvenile court. He walked down the steps of the Detention Home with his arm around his foster mother, a quiet, unassuming boy, with no more desire to fight Indians and rescue beautiful maidens.

The boy was paroled until Friday, when he will be taken before the juvenile court. He walked down the steps of the Detention Home with his arm around his foster mother, a quiet, unassuming boy, with no more desire to fight Indians and rescue beautiful maidens.

The boy was paroled until Friday, when he will be taken before the juvenile court. He walked down the steps of the Detention Home with his arm around his foster mother, a quiet, unassuming boy, with no more desire to fight Indians and rescue beautiful maidens.

The boy was paroled until Friday, when he will be taken before the juvenile court. He walked down the steps of the Detention Home with his arm around his foster mother, a quiet, unassuming boy, with no more desire to fight Indians and rescue beautiful maidens.

The boy was paroled until Friday, when he will be taken before the juvenile court. He walked down the steps of the Detention Home with his arm around his foster mother, a quiet, unassuming boy, with no more desire to fight Indians and rescue beautiful maidens.

The boy was paroled until Friday, when he will be taken before the juvenile court. He walked down the steps of the Detention Home with his arm around his foster mother, a quiet, unassuming boy, with no more desire to fight Indians and rescue beautiful maidens.

The boy was paroled until Friday, when he will be taken before the juvenile court. He walked down the steps of the Detention Home with his arm around his foster mother, a quiet, unassuming boy, with no more desire to fight Indians and rescue beautiful maidens.

The boy was paroled until Friday, when he will be taken before the juvenile court. He walked down the steps of the Detention Home with his arm around his foster mother, a quiet, unassuming boy, with no more desire to fight Indians and rescue beautiful maidens.

The boy was paroled until Friday, when he will be taken before the juvenile court. He walked down the steps of the Detention Home with his arm around his foster mother, a quiet, unassuming boy, with no more desire to fight Indians and rescue beautiful maidens.

The boy was paroled until Friday, when he will be taken before the juvenile court. He walked down the steps of the Detention Home with his arm around his foster mother, a quiet, unassuming boy, with no more desire to fight Indians and rescue beautiful maidens.

The boy was paroled until Friday, when he will be taken before the juvenile court. He walked down the steps of the Detention Home with his arm around his foster mother, a quiet, unassuming boy, with no more desire to fight Indians and rescue beautiful maidens.

The boy was paroled until Friday, when he will be taken before the juvenile court. He walked down the steps of the Detention Home with his arm around his foster mother, a quiet, unassuming boy, with no more desire to fight Indians and rescue beautiful maidens.

The boy was paroled until Friday, when he will be taken before the juvenile court. He walked down the steps of the Detention Home with his arm around his foster mother, a quiet, unassuming boy, with no more desire to fight Indians and rescue beautiful maidens.

The boy was paroled until Friday, when he will be taken before the juvenile court. He walked down the steps of the Detention Home with his arm around his foster mother, a quiet, unassuming boy, with no more desire to fight Indians and rescue beautiful maidens.

The boy was paroled until Friday, when he will be taken before the juvenile court. He walked down the steps of the Detention Home with his arm around his foster mother, a quiet, unassuming boy, with no more desire to fight Indians and rescue beautiful maidens.

The boy was paroled until Friday, when he will be taken before the juvenile court. He walked down the steps of the Detention Home with his arm around his foster mother, a quiet, unassuming boy, with no more desire to fight Indians and rescue beautiful maidens.

The boy was paroled until Friday, when he will be taken before the juvenile court. He walked down the steps of the Detention Home with his arm around his foster mother, a quiet, unassuming boy, with no more desire to fight Indians and rescue beautiful maidens.

The boy was paroled until Friday, when he will be taken before the juvenile court. He walked down the steps of the Detention Home with his arm around his foster mother, a quiet, unassuming boy, with no more desire to fight Indians and rescue beautiful maidens.

The boy was paroled until Friday, when he will be taken before the juvenile court. He walked down the steps of the Detention Home with his arm around his foster mother, a quiet, unassuming boy, with no more desire to fight Indians and rescue beautiful maidens.

The boy was paroled until Friday, when he will be taken before the juvenile court. He walked down the steps of the Detention Home with his arm around his foster mother, a quiet, unassuming boy, with no more desire to fight Indians and rescue beautiful maidens.

The boy was paroled until Friday, when he will be taken before the juvenile court. He walked down the steps of the Detention Home with his arm around his foster mother, a quiet, unassuming boy, with no more desire to fight Indians and rescue beautiful maidens.

The boy was paroled until Friday, when he will be taken before the juvenile court. He walked down the steps of the Detention Home with his arm around his foster mother, a quiet, unassuming boy, with no more desire to fight Indians and rescue beautiful maidens.

The boy was paroled until Friday, when he will be taken before the juvenile court. He walked down the steps of the Detention Home with his arm around his foster mother, a quiet, unassuming boy, with no more desire to fight Indians and rescue beautiful maidens.

The boy was paroled until Friday, when he will be taken before the juvenile court. He walked down the steps of the Detention Home with his arm around his foster mother, a quiet, unassuming boy, with no more desire to fight Indians and rescue beautiful maidens.

The boy was paroled until Friday, when he will be taken before the juvenile court. He walked down the steps of the Detention Home with his arm around his foster mother, a quiet, unassuming boy, with no more desire to fight Indians and rescue beautiful maidens.

The boy was paroled until Friday, when he will be taken before the juvenile court. He walked down the steps of the Detention Home with his arm around his foster mother, a quiet, unassuming boy, with no more desire to fight Indians and rescue beautiful maidens.

The boy was paroled until Friday, when he will be taken before the juvenile court. He walked down the steps of the Detention Home with his arm around his foster mother, a quiet, unassuming boy, with no more desire to fight Indians and rescue beautiful maidens.

The boy was paroled until Friday, when he will be taken before the juvenile court. He walked down the steps of the Detention Home with his arm around his foster mother, a quiet, unassuming boy, with no more desire to fight Indians and rescue beautiful maidens.

The boy was paroled until Friday, when he will be taken before the juvenile court. He walked down the steps of the Detention Home with his arm around his foster mother, a quiet, unassuming boy, with no more desire to fight Indians and rescue beautiful maidens.

The boy was paroled until Friday, when he will be taken before the juvenile court. He walked down the steps of the Detention Home with his arm around his foster mother, a quiet, unassuming boy, with no more desire to fight Indians and rescue beautiful maidens.

The boy was paroled until Friday, when he will be taken before the juvenile court. He walked down the steps of the Detention Home with his arm around his foster mother, a quiet, unassuming boy, with no more desire to fight Indians and rescue beautiful maidens.

The boy was paroled until Friday, when he will be taken before the juvenile court. He walked down the steps of the Detention Home with his arm around his foster mother, a quiet, unassuming boy, with no more desire to fight Indians and rescue beautiful maidens.

The boy was paroled until Friday, when he will be taken before the juvenile court. He walked down the steps of the Detention Home with his arm around his foster mother, a quiet, unassuming boy, with no more desire to fight Indians and rescue beautiful maidens.

The boy was paroled until Friday, when he will be taken before the juvenile court. He walked down the steps of the Detention Home with his arm around his foster mother, a quiet, unassuming boy, with no more desire to fight Indians and rescue beautiful maidens.

The boy was paroled until Friday, when he will be taken before the juvenile court. He walked down the steps of the Detention Home with his arm around his foster mother, a quiet, unassuming boy, with no more desire to fight Indians and rescue beautiful maidens.

The boy was paroled until Friday, when he will be taken before the juvenile court. He walked down the steps of the Detention Home with his arm around his foster mother, a quiet, unassuming boy, with no more desire to fight Indians and rescue beautiful maidens.

The boy was paroled until Friday, when he will be taken before the juvenile court. He walked down the steps of the Detention Home with his arm around his foster mother, a quiet, unassuming boy, with no more desire to fight Indians and rescue beautiful maidens.

The boy was paroled until Friday, when he will be taken before the juvenile court. He walked down the steps of the Detention Home with his arm around his foster mother, a quiet, unassuming boy, with no more desire to fight Indians and rescue beautiful maidens.

The boy was paroled until Friday, when he will be taken before the juvenile court. He walked down the steps of the Detention Home with his arm around his foster mother, a quiet, unassuming boy, with no more desire to fight Indians and rescue beautiful maidens.

The boy was paroled until Friday, when he will be taken before the juvenile court. He walked down the steps of the Detention Home with his arm around his foster mother, a quiet, unassuming boy, with no more desire to fight Indians and rescue beautiful maidens.

</